MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colie, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick shild tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. tation fig syrup.

MAKES NEW

River Indus Changes Its Course With Regularity.

Inhabitants of Waziristan Face Perpetual Peril, as Water Constantly Moves in a New Direction.

The frequently heard news that an eastern river has changed its course with danger to property and life seems incredible until one has actually seen an active river "getting busy" on n new course, writes a correspondent from Waziristan, India.

'Thus the Indus is a perpetual problem, and for this reason: All provisions must cross its broad waters, as Waziristan is on the west bank and in desert country.

Every October the river hibernates, and a bridge of boats temporarily solves the problem.

But each May it wakes up, shakes Itself out of its sleep and probably out of its original course. The bridge is hurriedly dismantled.

and there ensues anxious speculation among the engineers. Which way is the water coming?

After observations and soundings the new position of the port, quaintly called "Steamer Point," is fixed. There follows a procession of railway men, provision experts, coolies (laborers) and camels. Lines are laid, "dumps" arise and within a week the erstwhile lonely river bank is populated and becomes a "going concern."

Even then a wary eye has to be kept on the encroaching waters. Both the railway and the supply "dumps" have to be moved farther and farther back. Sometimes even in a single night the river will flow away into a new and unexpected channel; or, maybe, it will forsake a portion of its bed, leaving a yellow sandbank in its place.

The bank itself becomes jagged like a piece of bread into which a child has made large bites.

The water swirls ever inward and cracks appear ten feet within the bank: the cracks deepen, and without warning another large lump of shore crumbles away. A motor car that stopped on such a piece disappeared into the river and has not been seen

And some of these effects are curl-

A cluster of three palm trees, which were well away from the water last week, were mitte islands yesterday. This morning they kan disappeared Probably they are miles down the stream for the current is swift and gives no quarter. You may imagine these quiet trees, torn from their native soil, turning feverishly round and round at the mercy of the sweeping current. The flotsam and jetsam of life and death go eddying past on the bosom of the stream. Here a dead camel, there a bevy of jam tins catches the eye and fades away downstream.

Yet with all the turmoil and trouble the Indus has a charm of its own, and it is most fascinating to watch the work of elemental nature. This evening, as I saw the bank collapsing bit by bit, I could not help thinking of the story of the engineer who built his bungalow a comfortable mile from the river. The next year the water was lapping at his garden gate.

And I wondered if in a year or two the river would threaten our own little homesteads away back in the distance.

Is President of Assyria.

ica became known to posterity as the "Father of His Country," the first woman president of a nation may be known as the "Mother of Assyria." Lady Surma, first executive of the new Assyrian republic, practically created the nation when she obtained from England the grant of 80,000 square miles of land in the Kurdistan mountains, and this, it is said in London, may win her the unique title.

Lady Surma was ambassador to England from the Assyrians-and incidentally the first woman ambassador in the world-when she obtained the grant of the new territory from Britain. Her brother, Mar Chinon, had been patriarch of the Assyrians, and following his murder a new form of government was outlined. When the new assembly of the Assyrians was organized, the ambassador who won for the country its new territory was at once urged for its ruler.

Lady Surma was educated by British tutors and is an accomplished. tinguist.

Arabic Literature Recovering. Arabic literature, writes a correspondent to the London Morning Post, is recovering from a period of depression induced by the war. Of the books published during the last month or so one of the most interesting is "Nawadir al-Harb," containing rare and interesting comments on the war-rare in the sense that every fact is narrated from the standpoint of the Oriental philosopher. The little volume closes with appropriate comments on the powers and their post-war conditions called from the works of the classical Arable poets. Perhaps the most amusing passage is that which is selected for Montenegro: "I have sold my house and my donkey; I have, therefore, nothing above or beneath me."

Really Clever.

'Madge is an awfully clever girl." "Why, the's a regular dummy with the men." "Dief's where her cleverness comes 'r. She leads a then to believe that one thinks he my worth listening to."

MR. JINKS WAS DISCOURAGED

With All His Hard Work on "Flivver," All He Could Do Was Make the Horn Squawk.

Mr. Jinks aas been the proud posessor of a brand-new flivver for nearly three weeks, and his precious treasure is never far from his thoughts, Every moment he can spare is devoted to pol-Ishing its glossy coat or tinkering with its vitals in the effort to discover the cause of its occasional spells of mulish balkiness

The other night-about two o'clock -Mrs. Jinks was awakened by terrific yowls emitted by the family cat. Now the cat was a peaceful pussy and not at all given to nocturnal vocal demonstrations, Imagine Mrs. Jinks' astonishment when she arose and discovered her husband sitting on the edge of the bed, vigorously twisting the cat's tail round and round.

"John," she protested, rescuing her pet with some difficulty, "what on earth are you doing?"

Mr. Jinks was evidently in a somnambulistic state, for he scratched his head and responded sleepily:

"Sh' won't go, honey; sh' simply won't go. I've cranked an' cranked an' th' horn squawks, an' thash all. Guesh 'll have t' sen' 'er up fer repairs. Somethin' mush be matter wizzer magneto. 'Sdarn shame, an' ain't paid fer yet, even!"-From Nuggets.

DOG RECOGNIZED ITS HOME

Even at Sea, and at Some Distance, Animal Knew Destroyer to Which It Belonged.

Except for the serial numbers painted boldly on the bow, most persons have the greatest difficulty in recognizing one of the 300 destroyers in the United States navy from another, but there is a dog aboard the destroyer Schenck No. 159 which seems in this regard to have far more than human intelligence.

This dog-of no particular breedhas been aboard the Schenck for about Officers aboard the Schenck are tellin the story of how, not long ago, when the vessel went from Pensacola to Guantanamo, the dog was lost. He could not be found when the time for departure arrived, although the crew had been searching the town for him for almost two hours.

It developed that the dog, after the Schenck departed, reached another destroyer and went to sea with them.

During the voyage the two destroyore passed well out to sea. The dogwas on the mage and harried so load: ly that he attracted the attention of the Schenck.

Royalty in a Freight Yard. Lieutenant Commander Hugo W.

Koehler in the World's Work says: Our nearest neighbors in a squalida out-freight yard where we took up quarters in Novorossisk were the former president of the Vladikaykaz railroad, the best system in Russia, who, with his children and grandchildren, occupied one small coach. The Grand Duchess Marie Pavlova with members: of her former suite and their families, also had a single coach, while her son, the Grand Duke Andrey, with his son: of oddly indefinite parentage and said: son's mother, a famous ballerina in her day, likewise lived for months in: a tiny railroad coach on the oppositeside of our mudhole. The grand! duchess was a charming lady, nor did' the terror of her situation and the utter squalor of our surroundings take one whit from her delightful sense of Famous Grove Disappearing. Mexican children gathering firewood are slowly wiping out a clamp of cottonwood trees northwest of Juarez, Mex., across the Rio Grande from El Pase, Tex., which has been known as "Deace Grove" because it was there that Gen. Francisco I. Madero agreed to a series of armistices which preceded the end of his revolution, Approximately 25 trees marked the historical spot in 1911. Today, it is said, less

A sharp-tongued, red-faced 'lawyer nfterward?"

"Yes," replied the witness, "but not to drink." "What object had you in view then?"

"The fully object I had in view, sir, as I went in was yourself coming out." -Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TO HAVE A FRIEND, BE ONE

Here is a scene which is frequently enacted in your home drug store. Your home druggist never complains of the many favors asked of him; he has an eye intent on the best interests of his fellow residents, and meets all such conditions smilingly. Why not favor the man who favors you? He is deserving of your levalty and patronage.
